Independence Day

The same spirit of fervour accompanies the celebration on Independence Day on 15th August every year. It is a joyous occasion for every Indian as it reminds us of the martyrs of the freedom struggle of India. In New Delhi, the national flag is hoisted by the Prime Minister and by Chief Ministers in their respective states and by other officials at different levels of political hierarchy. India's Prime Minister hoists national flag of India and gives a speech at the Red Fort in Old Delhi and highlights focus areas for future, while also reviewing the past achievements. The Chief Ministers of different states also unfurl the national flag in their respective states.

In educational institutions such as schools and colleges, the day is commemorated with parades and cultural events, for which preparations begin much in advance. On this day, government offices and buildings are illuminated and adorned with elegant decoration. National flags are hung at suitable places to show people's deep respect and commitment to the country.

Republic Day

On Republic Day, held on 26th January, the President of India pays tribute to the Indian martyred soldiers at India Gate in New Delhi.

The importance of Republic Day is that on this day, India became a sovereign Republic, with the right to form its own government. The grand formation of tableaux, the breathtaking display of the folk dances of each state celebrating the diversity of each state, the decoration, the display of weapon systems are integral part of India's Republic Day celebration. To witness the event, a foreign dignitary is also invited as Chief Guest every year. Gallantry and bravery awards are given away to armed forces personnel and to civilians. The award ceremony is a proud moment for all Indians. Republic Day is also celebrated at all the district and sub-divisional headquarters of the state. The Governor takes the salute at the march-past led by the Armed forces. At the state level, the Governor unfurls the flag in the state capital and also gives a speech highlighting topical issues facing the respective state. The Chief Minister of the state hoists the flag in the district headquarters.

Gandhi Jayanti __02 october

Gandhi Jayanti celebrated on 2nd October is also an important day. Though it is a national holiday, the celebration is not on the same scale as Republic Day and Independence Day. Yet it has caught the imagination of the entire nation as this day carries a strong message of peace and harmony that resonates with every Indian. Mahatma Gandhi, who led by example, Gandhi's values and belief in Satyagraha (truth) and Ahimsa (non-violence) have stood the test of time. On this day, by attending lectures about Gandhi and listening to devotional songs, every Indian strengthens his belief in the actuality of an equal society and a peaceful and uncorrupted world. Mahatma Gandhi's vision was exemplary, vast in scope and deeply powerful in impact for human societies. As such, Gandhi's relevance makes this day very special for everyone.

To commemorate Mahatma Gandhi's birthday, the President, Prime Minister and other dignitaries pay homage to Gandhi at Raj Ghat, New Delhi where he was cremated. Also, events, such as paintings, creative writing, and essay competitions are organized to create a better understanding about the life of Gandhi. The song 'Raghupati Raghav Raja Ram', which was close to his heart has a spiritual quality is sung at various places. Perhaps the best way to celebrate this day is to make a resolution to imbibe Gandhian values in our lives and come good on it. In 2014, Prime Minister Narendra Modi launched a nationwide 'Clean India Drive' on Gandhi Jayanti.
